

JUSTICE 26 NOV. 1898

A man engaged a Room at a Hotel, locked the Door and Put the Key in His Pocket, and Went Away and Did Not Occupy it for One Week. Would He Be Expected to Pay For It? Why Not? He Kept Others From Using It. There Would be no Other Voice--of Course; He Should Pay For It. How Would It Do to Apply the same Principle to Land Which is Held Unused But Locked Up From Others?
