

August 8, 1990

Dear Graham:

I have your letter of July 27. Glad mail is coming through after all. Did you receive the shipment of literature we sent, as mentioned in my letter of February 7 to Ian Armstrong.

The literature you are sending sounds all right. One thing: In the body of your letter you mention 15 Churchill pamphlets, and below you mention 10. Sorry you can't locate "Tale of Two Cities," but the other titles sound fine. I trust we'll get all this by the time we are ready to prepare a new literature list in a month or two.

I'm sure things must be difficult after Ian's death, but glad you have a replacement. Can you confirm Antoinette Meyer's title, also your own?

What has happened to Mr. Stowasser?

Sincerely,

Robert Clancy