

The 32nd Annual Conference of the Council of Georgist Organizations

Harrisburg
Pennsylvania

July 30th - August 3rd, 2012

An Effective Role for Every Georgist

Everyone's work is important! What skills do we need to develop to maximize our contribution? In a series of no-lose concurrent sessions (repeated, so no one has to miss anything), we will explore how to share what we know, and find the resources we need.

Harrisburg: An LVT Success Story

Mayor Stephen Reed introduced land value tax to Harrisburg, and credits it for playing a key role in Harrisburg's recovery during his 28 years as mayor. Reed was defeated in 2009 by the current mayor, Linda Thompson. Both mayors will address our conference. Plenary sessions will feature a debate on replacing the property tax, a panel on the Marcellus Shale controversy, and how public officials respond to Georgist assertions.

A Perfect Conference for Conversation

The Camp Hill Radisson has much more of "re-treat" feel than we are used to, with an outside patio off the dining room and a large grassy campus. High banks and dense shrubbery reduce traffic noise. We are planning our conference with longer spaces between sessions, with conversation space for those who want to chat, and our biggest, nicest hospitality room ever.
