

Bohemian Club Member
Is New Trustee

JOSEPH S. THOMPSON, president and founder of the Pacific Electric Manufacturing Company, and vice-president of Federal Electric Company, San Francisco, has been elected a trustee of the Henry George School of Social Science (New York), much to the delight of all who have enjoyed his public addresses.

He is the author of Earned and Unearned Income, More Progress and Less Poverty and Landlordism, essays which have had a telling influence on leaders of business. Mr. Thompson is president of the San Francisco extension of the Henry George School. He was also one of its founders and steady supporters.

Agnes de Mille, dancer, choreographer, and author of Dance to the Piper, now being adapted for the screen, was also recently elected a trustee of the Henry George School. She has subsequently been named as a trustee of Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, New York.
