

Centenary Publicity

NEW YORK—As we go to press, definite arrangements have been made for various radio broadcasts. On September 2nd, at the luncheon in the Casino of Nations, station WOR is short wave broadcasting the speeches around the world. Rabbi Aaronsohn will speak from the Commodore Hotel over Station WLW, Wednesday, August 30. Mrs. Anna George de Mille will be presented by station WJZ the following Monday.

Sunday evening, September 3rd, at 7 P.M., over station WABC Frank Chodorov, director of the Henry George School of Social Science, will match Georgist principles against three different schools of economic thought. Mr. Jones, of the Akron Building Co., will present the reactionary point of view. Mr. Baker will speak about Cooperatives and Mr. Bingham, editor of "Common Sense," will explain Production-For-Use. The title of the program is "The People's Platform."

Calculated to obtain publicity for the Centenary will be a gathering at the Rainbow Grill, Tuesday afternoon, August 29, at which a local committee will greet Georgists from foreign lands. Baroness Alma Dahlerup and the Danish Vice-Consul, Mr. A. Tscherning, will welcome the Danish visitors and Mr. L. R. McGregor, Australian Government Trade Commission, will be host to the British and Australian guests.

Among the less glamorous and yet important items of publicity are special feature stories, one of which will appear in the Magazine section of the New York Times, Sunday, August 27, the usual news releases and radio announcements.

This publicity work has been carried on by teachers and graduates of the School, working with Burt Levey, Sandy Wise and Bernard Hoffman of the Centenary Committee.
