Stan, I don't know if you had a chance to talk with Claire Menninger while at Santa Fe. She had sent me the enclosed before the conference. I was going to make a copy to take with me to give to you then.

By this time you have read my paper on the School. Subsequent to that time I was mostly inactive until 1970.

The Chicago grads are scattered. Many who were active in the forties are dead. The predecessor organizations have long ago disbanded, and their members buried.

It is my understanding that both John Lawrence Monroe and Robert Tideman had worked at the HGS in New York in the early days. Bob Tideman can give you much history and many insights, if he has a mind to do so.
